Hi Jialiang,

Please refer to my reply to Sven which clarifies my question a little more.

I have the interface created via following an article that I found, unfortunately I have an issue trying to resolve the interface.

Thanks for your time and help.

Nick.

Hello Nick,

From your post, my understanding on this issue is: you wonder why your callback function is not fired and how to set a custom image for ribbon button. If I'm off base, please feel free to let me know.

For the first question, I wonder whether you have switched on the display of the add-in UI error? Would you let me know the error message. To do so, use Word Options->Advanced->General section->Show add-in user interface errors. When it is switched on, you could see all errors related to the add-in, which include "not find callbackfunction" or any runtime errors in the callbacks. Besides, please refer to the following page which describe a similar question to yours: (It also contains a full sample code about how to set callbacks for your reference.)

<http://www.eggheadcafe.com/software/aspnet/28728411/-iribbonextensibility.aspx>

Is the callback function a member of your add-in class rather than a member of IRibbonExtensibility? (See picture:

Re: IRibbonExtensibility and custom ribbon image

For the second question, the attribute imageMso specifies a built-in icon to display on the button.

<button id="Button1" imageMso="HappyFace" size="large" label="MyButton" />

See the section "Ribbon XML File Reference" in MSDN

Please let me know if you have any other concerns, or need anything else.

Sincerely,

Jialiang Ge (jialge@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx, remove 'online.')
