Yes, this is what I have been doing. I send an invitation (from PC#1-XP) to one user (PC#2 -win 98) and they accept the invitation, it is placed on their calendar(PC#2). However, this calendar seems to be shared by both users (PC#2 ).

I'm would like for each of the users (PC#2) to have a separate calendar. Is there a way to point outlook, by user, to a separate calendar?
