As far as I know, Office XP Small Business Edition is an OEM-only version, which means the software is licensed only to the computer that the software originally came with, and you cannot transfer the software to any other computer.

MS Office for Teachers & Students trial version is currently on my PC.

I have a complete version MS Office XP Small Business version that I would like to install.

My question is should I uninstall the trial version first or will the XP version recognize it and remove the trial version?
