Okay, I am at my wits end with Office 2007. It takes me forever to get the simplest things done.....eg: I'm in Word, I want to insert a table....OK...so I figured the Insert ribbon...managed to find and insert a table....but then I wanted to merge some cells....well....? I'm still looking.....is this really supposed to make things easier?

Where is the option to have the traditional File Edit View...etc menus? I thought surely there would be an option to allow us to have the old menus.....but I can't find it. Please tell me there is such an option somewhere!

Why are you making software that just makes things more difficult?
