Change that to an accessible
location and try again.

I'm not sure what you mean by "accessible location". I'm pointing to a folder on the hard drive, not a network drive.

And are the folder permissions for that location set to permit read/write? Try using "My Documents" instead and see if that clears up
the issue.

I pointed it away from "My documents" precisely because of this problem.

Re: office 2003 locks up when "saving as"

Humm, your "My Documents" is not on your "C" drive. Perhaps you are part of a domain? Who is the Administrator of the PC? Is this PC remotely managed?– Hide quoted text –

- 1) yes, "My Documents" *is* on the "C" drive but it locks up when pointing to it anyway.
- 2) yes, the machine is part of a domain.
- 3) I am the administrator.
- 4) No, I do not remotely manage it.
- 5) However, the machine is a laptop and does use a roaming profile, if that's any cause for concern.

Thanks again for thinking about this.
