Where did you purchase the product key from? If it wasn't a purchase directly from Microsoft to validate the Trial version, the product key will not work. Many times this type of key is purchased by some vendor as part of a package from Microsoft and then broken up and resold individually by the vendor. If this is what happened (purchased from other than Microsoft) it is now time to contact MS to report the vendor for improperly selling the license.

Hello,

I installed Windows Office 2007 Professional a while ago from a download from MS web site. I've since bought a medialess Office 2007 Pro license (an empty CD case) as my trial was coming to an end. I've tried putting in the product key several times when the Office application asks for it upon start-up but it keeps telling me it's invalid. What can the problem be?
