

Re: sku111.cab

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Office/microsoft.public.officeupdate/2004-04/0187.html>

From: Sloan Crayton [MS] (sloanc_at_online.microsoft.com)

Date: 04/12/04

Date: Sun, 11 Apr 2004 22:48:20 -0700

This is one of the compressed files on your Office Professional 2003 CD. If you're seeing a prompt to provide this file, then you likely chose to remove the \MSOCACHE folder after installation. Office 2003 has a new Setup feature that copies the source files to the local hard drive as long as your hard drive has adequate free disk space. If these files are not removed, then there will never be a need to insert the CD.

You'll find more information about this feature in the KB article at <http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=kb:en-us:830168>. Instructions on how to restore the files in the \MSOCACHE folder are contained in the KB article at <http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=kb:en-us:826712>.

Sloan Crayton
Microsoft

"mitch" <anonymous@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:1431801c41ba3$16a185c0$a001280a@phx.gbl...

> I know this is a pain for everyone and I hate to > doublepost BUT I've seen alot of questions about > the "missing" file sku111.cab that is required for the > current office updates but I have yet to see an answer.
>
> Does anyone actually know where to find this file?
>
> THanks.
>
> MM