

Re: Using VBA to replace text

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Office/microsoft.public.powerpoint/2005-04/msg00818.html>

- From: Jeff Jones <jjones23@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Wed, 06 Apr 2005 15:02:56 GMT
-

Just in case, I built a function that tests for the TitleMaster and returns a "No" if there is none after displaying the presentation name. I then close the presentation and move on.

On Wed, 06 Apr 2005 07:27:41 -0700, "David M. Marcovitz" <marcoNOSPAM@xxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

>Did you change MatchWholeWords to be False? I was able to do the replace >in my test run without the end character when I did that.
>--David

.

- References:
 - ◆ Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: Jeff Jones
 - ◆ Re: Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: Steve Rindsberg
 - ◆ Re: Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: Jeff Jones
 - ◆ Re: Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: Steve Rindsberg
 - ◆ Re: Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: Jeff Jones
 - ◆ Re: Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: David M. Marcovitz
 - ◆ Re: Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: Jeff Jones
 - ◆ Re: Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: David M. Marcovitz
 - ◆ Re: Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: Jeff Jones
 - ◆ Re: Using VBA to replace text
 - ◇ From: David M. Marcovitz

- Prev by Date: Re: Using VBA to replace text
- Next by Date: Re: Using VBA to replace text

Re: Using VBA to replace text

- Previous by thread: Re: Using VBA to replace text
- Next by thread: Re: Using VBA to replace text
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread