

Re: Printing A Serrated Border

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Office/microsoft.public.powerpoint/2005-09/msg01835.html>

- From: "Sonia" <scds@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 29 Sep 2005 18:55:35 -0700
-

I select the object with the text in it, do Ctrl + C and then Ctrl + V about 10 times rapidly. Takes about 6 seconds.

"John Gregory" <jaygreg90@xxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:eQOC3AWxFHA.1856@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx > Thank you. The rectangles worked. There isn't a way to replicate those > rectangles quicker than via copy/paste, one at a time is there?
>
> "Sonia" <scds@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
> news:uGAENMSxFHA.3892@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx
>>I would probably use Word and put a single row, multiple column table at the >>bottom of the page and use the text direction function to make it vertical.
>>In PowerPoint I'd probably create a rectangle, type text in it and then rotate >>it and duplicate it multiple times. Then I would align all of the rectangles >>at the bottom of the slide.
>> --
>>
>> Sonia Coleman
>> Microsoft PowerPoint MVP Team
>> Autorun Software, Templates and Tutorials
>> <http://www.soniacoleman.com>
>>
>> "John Gregory" <jaygreg90@xxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
>> news:OcmxqFSxFHA.3756@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx >>> I've made a flyer to sell a car and intend to tack it to a public bulletin >>> board at a local grocery store. Everything looks fine ... except the bottom >>> margin in which I had to handwrite my phone number in tiny rectangles >>> sideways every half inch. I plan to cut the border between each rectangle to >>> make the resulting strip of paper easy to tear off since the only thing >>> holding it in place will be the half inch at the top of the little >>> rectangle.
>>>
>>> I'd like to make this look neater but I don't know how to put the text >>> sideways at the bottom. Can someone please give me a thumbnail sketch of how >>> it's done or steer me in the right direction please?
>>>
>>>
>>>
>>>
>>>

>

.

• References:

◆ Printing A Serrated Border

◇ From: John Gregory

◆ Re: Printing A Serrated Border

◇ From: John Gregory

- Prev by Date: Re: Printing A Serrated Border
- Next by Date: Linking movie video in PPT
- Previous by thread: Re: Printing A Serrated Border
- Next by thread: Re: Retrieval of slide "history"
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread