I poked around on the Microsoft Deployment Centre and finally ended up here:

<http://www.microsoft.com/downloads/details.aspx?FamilyID=1a8ce553-ab76-4a63-99da-b4ed914c1514&displaylan>

There's a link there that says: "A full file administrative update for use by IT Administrators is available on the Office XP Resource Kit Web site. "

That Office XP Resource Kit Web site is here:

<http://office.microsoft.com/en-us/FX011511511033.aspx>

This is an administrative update installation that your IT staff might use if it were going to install this update on all the computers in your company.

If you're just installing service packs on your own, you just want to download SP2 from that first link --

If you already installed the resource kit, though, I don't think it will hurt anything.
