Hello,

I would like to have the emails I send out to have a link in the footer. If the user clicks this link, my contact information is added to the user's contacts.

I am working Microsoft Outlook 2000 – 2003. I would assume that a new contact will be created and added to the default Outlook contact folder. My question is does anyone know of any resources or have the code I would need?

Best regards,
Joseph Parchem
