

Bloodhound.Exploit.6

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Outlook/microsoft.public.outlook.general/2004-11/8432.html>

From: jdcharlieb (jdcharlieb_at_discussions.microsoft.com)

Date: 11/29/04

Date: Mon, 29 Nov 2004 13:11:02 -0800

Hello, can you please answer this question. I have installed service pack one and then service pack two. Also i have nortons anti virus on my computer.

I have been infected by bloodhound.exploit 6 and as i have installed service pack 1 and 2, would the patch to correct this have been installed via these updates.

I ask because even though outlook express 6.0 has been pre-installed, if i try to download one of the patches on the security page for the above named virus, a box comes up to tell me that i need to install outlook express 6.0.

I realise that this forum is not for outlook express, but i am sure that somebody would have this answer.

thanks

Jeff