

Re: Web pages in Outlook – not attachments

---

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Outlook/microsoft.public.outlook.installation/2005-04/msg00418.html>

---

- From: "AndreasRoeder" <A.Roeder@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Mon, 11 Apr 2005 13:37:58 +0200
-

Rory wrote:

- > I want to send an html page in outlook as an e-mail message body and
- > not as an attachment which seems to be the default and caused,
- > possibly by the security settings in Outlook.
- >
- > The item in question is a survey form I created as an HTML form. I
- > open my browser (IE6). Navigate to the page on my hard drive. Select
- > File|Send|Page by email. It opens Outlook (2002) and makes an
- > attachment of it. Not as an email message.
- >
- > I'm using Windows XP Pro SP2
- >
- > How can I reverse this security default, please?
- >
- > Rory

Hi Rory,
do you use Word as email editor?
Have you checked if you have HTML as Email Format?

—

Schönen Tag noch
<http://www.andreas-roeder.net>

.

---

- Follow-Ups:
  - ◆ Re: Web pages in Outlook – not attachments
◇ From: Rory
- References:
  - ◆ Web pages in Outlook – not attachments
◇ From: Rory

Re: Web pages in Outlook – not attachments

- Prev by Date: Re: How do I remove all traces of my office installation from the reg.
- Next by Date: AAAArrgh! Text turns blue and blankspace is added when editing tex
- Previous by thread: Web pages in Outlook – not attachments
- Next by thread: Re: Web pages in Outlook – not attachments
- Index(es):
  - ◆ Date
  - ◆ Thread