

Re: multiple windows open

---

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Outlook/microsoft.public.outlook.installation/2005-08/msg01266.html>

---

- From: George Sohos <GeorgeSohos@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Tue, 30 Aug 2005 07:46:12 -0700
-

I know it's bad form to reply to your own posts, but I found a solution to my problem and I thought I would share it.

Actually, it was too simple. All I had to do is hit the x on the top right corner of the window I wanted closed and quit outlook. Next time, only one window started!

"George Sohos" wrote:

> I have a similar problem. /recycle didn't help. There is an article in KB > that describes how to open multime windows in Outlook 2000, but there no > mention of how to close the second window and prevent it from coming up again.
>
> Any help would be appreciated.
>
> "Vince Averello [MVP-Outlook]" wrote:
>
>> You can try adding /recycle to the command line you're using to start >> Outlook.
>>
>> "djs" <djs@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
>> news:00FA0700-8E22-4239-9584-16607898D0DA@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx
>>> why does Outlook open another window of the same outlook when you hit the >>> icon on the desktop instead of just bringing up the one that is minimized.
>>> Can you set it so you only have one window of outlook open no matter which >>> icon you hit.
>>
>>
>>
.

---

• References:

- ◆ multiple windows open
    ◇ From: djs
- ◆ Re: multiple windows open
    ◇ From: Vince Averello [MVP-Outlook]

Re: multiple windows open

◆ Re: multiple windows open

◇ From: George Sohos

- Prev by Date: Re: delay in recieving e-mails
- Next by Date: Bigfoot
- Previous by thread: Re: multiple windows open
- Next by thread: Re: multiple windows open
- Index(es):
  - ◆ Date
  - ◆ Thread