I have 2 pop3 accounts that both go into Outlook 2003. I use rules to move the emails to their respective folders. I have the Junk Email filter turned on High...and yet nothing gets filtered. It seems to me that Outlook moves the messages first, then runs the Junk Email filter on the Inbox. The Inbox is empty when the filter is run, thus nothing is filtered. Can anyone direct me on how to accomplish either one of the 2 solutions mentioned below?

1. Run the Junk Email filter on folders other than Inbox?
2. Run the Junk Email filter BEFORE the message rules are applied?

Either option would solve the issue. Thanks
