Hi, folks. We've got a home network here with an XP machine and an Apple Quad PowerPC. We hooked up a D-Link DP-301U print server a couple weeks ago with our D-Link DL-624 wireless router and were successful at getting it to print anything the Mac sends to the Samsung ML-1430 laserprinter. The XP machine is a different story: documents sent from Word, Notepad, or IE6 print ok. We can print the printer test page, too. We *CANNOT* print anything from Outlook 2003, OE6, or Firefox.

WHAT is the solution to this problem? I disabled 3rd party browser extensions in IE6, but I can't figure out how or if I should do the same thing for the three problematic programs.

I'm getting pissed off enough that I want to take back this somewhat useless print server. Any suggestions (including take back the equipment)? Please post here. Thanks a bunch.
