Hello,

i've really strange problem here. One of my customer (about 400 clients) complain that since we started migration from office 2000 to office 2003 few users (less than 10) are having some problems with the outlook read receipts. Users are using outlook 2003 and can't receive the receipts for some groups of users, for example one is complaining she can't receive the receipts from all people starting with letter "g". The same user can change pc, and all works fine, so it can't be a problem of who receive the email.

thank you for help

P.
