I really beginning to wonder if 4.1 ever should have been released to the public. I upgraded from 3.8 to 4.1 and immediately lost the ability to sync Avantgo's Pocket IE version. So I uninstalled 4.1, reinstalled 3.8, deleted my profile and loaded everything from Outlook onto the device. I used the option to overwrite what was on the device. I immediately noticed that thought syncing appeared to work I could no longer explore my device. Needing the ability to explore the device I decided to reinstall 4.1 and live without Avantgo. I reinstalled 4.1, deleted profile, and loaded everything onto the device again. Now I'm noticing that it's hit and miss with that gets synced accross the board. Some tasks sync and some don't. Some appointments sync and some dont. Can someone please tell me what I need to do get one version or the other working correctly? Right now I screwed. Nothing works right consistently.

Sorry for the topic change. Meant to start a new thread.
