Ok, I zipped up everything in the folder, and uploaded it here for you:

It means I need you to post one of your ETL trace files from \\Windows\System32\LogFiles\WindowsMobile so I can take a look.

Yep, I can verify that it is enabled..

If USB is enabled, your problem gets much more complicated to figure out.

Oh dear – does that mean most likely it _won't_ be fixed, or is it possible ?

Can you check the connection settings page and verify that USB connections are allowed for the computer you're trying to connect to. Disabling USB is the easiest way to get this event log. If USB is enabled, your problem gets much more complicated to figure out.
