I would like to synchronize ALL my internet explorer favorites, between my Windows Vista PC and My Windows Mobile 6 phone. To do that, I understood I have to put all my PC's links in the "mobile favorites" folder.

Correct.

But if I want to keep all links in their original folder, on the PC, is there still a way to synchronize them with the mobile device?

Not that I'm aware of. However, the Mobile Favorites folder supports subfolders, so your current favorites hierarchy can be preserved by moving the whole lot into Mobile Favorites.
