

Re: How to send a message from Server to a PocketPC, wireless connected to the Internet?

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/PocketPC/microsoft.public.pocketpc.developer/2004-09/0229.html>

From: Laksa (doreamonsaynospam-pls1924575106571_at_thankyou.tv.org.com)

Date: 09/03/04

Date: Sat, 4 Sep 2004 02:31:10 +0800

Just a suggestion, I see ppl have successfully did this using Message Queuing. (MSMQ) between Smartphone and Windows Server.

WP

"Ricardo Silveira" <cado_s@terra.com.br> wrote in message
news:eLQcHOckeEHA.2908@tk2msftngp13.phx.gbl...

> If my pocketpc is connected in the Internet by 1xrtt(cdma) or gprs(GSM) > connection.

> How could I do a pair of application(client and server) that could talk in > the server to client direction (Server->Client)

> Actually, I need a client agent that could receive something from the server

> any moment.

>

>

> Any suggestion, maybe I need to use low level programming (lower than > sockets)?

>

> Thanks

>

> Ricardo

>

>

>