

Re: TomTom setup with secondhand PPC

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/PocketPC/microsoft.public.pocketpc/2004-02/1829.html>

From: Karl (news_at_addrison.co.uk)

Date: 02/10/04

Date: Tue, 10 Feb 2004 22:02:01 -0000

I have a 3630 and a navman sleeve with cf card (128meg) that I'm going to sell (bought 1940 and bluetooth GPS) email if intrested gps@addrison.co.uk
"Darren Griffin – PocketGPSWorld" <darren@pocketgpsworld.invalid> wrote in message news:O$7b4aA8DHA.3880@tk2msftngp13.phx.gbl...

> Clive wrote:

> > What model PPC would be the cheapest to buy secondhand to run TomTom

> > Navigator 2.

> >

> > Is the cheapest way to add GPS to use a mouse (about £50), and the an

> > "adapter" lead which costs £20 – the leads seems very overpriced.

> >

> > Can a similar setup to the TomTom car kit be acheived with any other > > models (the kit is only avaiable for specific IPAQ/Dell models)

>

> I still use my iPAQ 3630 as a backup unit and it has always run TomTom

> Navigator 2 without issues. You would need a CF Sleeve for a storage card > but they can bothe be found on eBay.

>

> TomTom will run on many PocketPC models assuming you can get a suitable GPS.

> --

> Darren Griffin

> Pocket GPS World – <http://www.pocketgpsworld.com>

> The Premier GPS Resource for News, Reviews and Forums

>

>