

data was lost

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/PocketPC/microsoft.public.pocketpc/2004-03/2287.html>

From: vic (noone_at_nowhere.com)

Date: 03/13/04

Date: Sat, 13 Mar 2004 14:04:04 -0000

Hello,

I am new user of PocketPc. I used PocketPc to store my contact details. Unfortunately, I lost all of my data. It seems that the battery becomes empty and hence I lost all of my data. Is it normal? What should I do next time to not losing data?

I thought that the data should be saving on a safe place in the system memory so I should not lose them. Can some body point me to a document that I can read different type of memory that is used in a PocketPc and where I should store my data so they will not erased when the battery discharged completely?

Is there any beginner's documentation about PocketPc?

Best regards