

Re: THIS is the future – but how to make it work? – VOiP

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/PocketPC/microsoft.public.pocketpc/2004-03/3285.html>

---

From: Eric Hicks [MVP, Windows Mobile devices] (e\_dadu\_at\_nomospam.yahoo.com)

Date: 03/19/04

Date: Fri, 19 Mar 2004 07:53:50 -0500

Depending on what type of router you have it's as easy as going to the ports or external services page as it's called on some and forwarding the ports to the ip of your ppc. FWD is nice because they have a proxy setup that works thorough nat so you don't have to open any ports on your router. I use that proxy and have no problems connecting to fwd through my firewall and I have no ports open, plus it's great when you have more than one sip client going. Do you know which build of the beta you have? I konw that build 1062 works great, it was right before they started adding stun to the mix and I've had good luck with build 1062.

--

Eric Hicks [That_Kid] (MS-MVP Mobile Devices)

The MS-MVP Program - <http://mvp.support.microsoft.com>

This posting is provided "AS IS" with no warranties, and confers no rights...

"Mike" <no@spam.ta> wrote in message news:c3ebc0$skcn$1@titan.btinternet.com...

> Hi Eric

>

> Thanks for the info. My X-Pro was a beta from Pocket PC Magazine archive - > maybe should have been removed some time back but it seems to work and beats

> £28 for a registered version. I have an account at FWD now which I can > almost get working on my PC but haven't quite managed on the Dell Axim X3.
> To top it off Dell is replacing the Axim today as it is one of the millions

> that don't like storage cards. Another story. Possibly a scandal.

>

> Anyhoo. I installed SJ phone weeks ago just out of curiosity but didn't have > time to play with. Went to reinstall as you say and it is locked. Can't even > remember what it looks like. I'll have a look at eyepmedia. If someone calls > from FWD 272778 it might be me...

>

> I suspect I will never get all the options working together. I have a lot to > learn about NATs and all that. And how the heck do you 'open a port'?

>

>

> Many thanks

```
>
> Mike
>
>
>
>
> Eric Hicks [MVP, Windows Mobile devices] wrote: > > Yeah x-lite is a nice "looking" application but you are paying for > > that look with many cpu cycles. I've been using x-pro with both a > > free world dialup account(www.fwd.pulver.com) as well as a vonage > > softphone account(www.vonage.com) I haven't been keeping up with > > x-phone lately because they seem to be moving away from the pda side > > of things and concentrating more on the desktop side of things. the > > ui is just great but the program i
```