

Re: Win mobile 5.0– different language websites

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/PocketPC/microsoft.public.pocketpc/2007-02/msg00699.html>

- From: "rick cameron" <rick.cameron@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 16 Feb 2007 23:15:35 -0800
-

I just tried the steps I suggested on my PPC 2002 device, using <http://www.mfa.gov.il/MFAHeb> which appears to be in UTF-8, not some Hebrew-specific encoding, and it does not work. The font is certainly recognised by Windows CE, and I can use it in Word to display some Hebrew characters (although they're rendered in the wrong direction!)

It looks like the Treo 750 uses Windows Mobile 5.0; apparently they haven't fixed these problems even in that version of CE.

You could try the Opera browser: <http://www.opera.com/products/mobile/>

Good luck!

– rick

"tal cohen" <tal2803@xxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:emJkknIUHHA.1212@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Hi,

I did what you said, but its still doesn't work.

when I'm in the internet explorer options menu, in the encoding list I see like 10 different types of fonts, without the Hebrew one that I put in, and also I cant see any fonts types in the windows/fonts folder that you told me about on my treo 750, beside the Hebrew one that I put in there.

please help

tal

"rick cameron" <rick.cameron@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:u0SthfZUHHA.1552@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Windows CE uses TrueType fonts, just like Windows on the desktop. So copy a Hebrew TrueType font from the Fonts folder on your PC to \Windows\Fonts on the Pocket PC.

"tal cohen" <tal2803@xxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:%23Nc\$1MYUHHA.3948@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Re: Win mobile 5.0– different language websites

How do I get the Hebrew font, so I can see Hebrew websites on my treo 750?

"rick cameron" <rick.cameron@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:%23T74PaTUHHA.3652@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Perhaps all you need to do is to add a font that supports Hebrew.

"tal cohen" <tal2803@xxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:uRgDNoSUHHA.5100@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Hi.
I have Palm Treo 750 with Windows Mobile 2005 OS,
English language.
Is it possible to add language like Hebrew, so I can read Hebrew websites on the internet explorer on my device?

Thanks
Tal Cohen