

microsoft.public.project.pro_and_server: Re: Can't approve time! getting "need Project Pro"

Re: Can't approve time! getting "need Project Pro"

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Project/microsoft.public.project.pro_and_server/2004-04/0754.html

From: Brian K – Project MVP (briank_at_mvps.org)

Date: 04/27/04

Date: Mon, 26 Apr 2004 22:04:28 -0700

KSatNJ wrote:

- > I have MS-Project Pro fully licensed and installed. But while trying
- > to approve timesheet submitted by staff after clicking 'accept'
- > against each entry, when I hit Update, I get a strange error "You
- > need Microsoft Project Pro.....bla bla". It says "if you do have
- > Project Pro" to go to Tools=>Ent Options=>Proj.Server.Accounts; I did
- > all that and could connect just fine to the server. Yet, I get the
- > same error while trying to approve.
- >
- > Irony is, I created the plan in Project Pro and checked into project
- > server, to start with! (it cannot be any rights issue since I am
- > using id with absolute rights)
- >
- > Any help appreciated

Are you using Terminal Services to access Project Pro?

--

Brian K
Project MVP
<http://www.projectified.com>
Project Server Consultant
<http://www.quantumpm.com>