

Re: email

---

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Publisher/microsoft.public.publisher.webdesign/2005-05/msg00075.html>

---

- From: "David Bartosik [MSFT MVP]" <dbartosik@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Thu, 5 May 2005 21:46:39 -0500
-

Trouble-shooting link issues can be done with the FAQ –
<http://www.publishermvps.com/Default.aspx?tabid=30>

However sending a web as an html email is opening up tons of possible issues. Beginning with the fact that the email function only emails 1 page and not the entire web publication. Html email doesn't support multiple web pages.

David Bartosik – [MSFT MVP]
<http://www.publishermvps.com>
<http://www.davidbartosik.com>

"Xochitl Torres" <Xochitl.Torres@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
<news:DD679A20-C69E-4D0B-9E76-CF8094FD8FA0@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

> hi everyone,
>
> i want to use a web template as a e-newsletter i have already made the > design and layout of the newsletter i wanted to use the HTML code fragment > as > i can have one main page to add all of my information the links work when > i > preview it as a web page but it does not work when i email it using > Microsoft
> Publisher. Does any one know how i can make it work .... or can anyone > help
> me out to find a better way of working with links using Microsoft > Publisher???

>
> thank you ahead of time to anyone that can help ....
>
>

-
- References:

Re: email

◆ email

◇ From: Xochitl Torres

- Prev by Date: Re: Styles and Formatting Issue
- Next by Date: changing jpg images to gif
- Previous by thread: email
- Next by thread: changing jpg images to gif
- Index(es):
  - ◆ Date
  - ◆ Thread