Virginia, Do you get a red X across where the pictures should be, or do they just take a long time to load? Pub 2003 is really sloooooow loading, especially if you are using a dial up connection.

No, you do not need a different program to transfer the files. You just need to review the proper way of publishing your site. Here are some links about publishing your site:

Follow the links to the articles listed here:

Also read the article about compressing your pictures. This might help the images to load more quickly.

Also refer to the FAQ:
