I have java script code to put into my web page. I'm not sure where to put in the Publisher software to have it wrk correctly. When I create the INDEX file and index folder and then make changes, seems to work ok but when I test the page, I don't get the home page, I get the "Index". I need to get the java script into the web page befor I convert it (save as) web page. Hope this makes sense...
Thanks WWV
