

Re: Pages not uploading

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Publisher/microsoft.public.publisher.webdesign/2006-10/msg00123.html>

- From: GeePee <GeePee@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 10 Oct 2006 09:48:02 -0700
-

Here we are again. Still no success at linking pages. Since last post, have changed the file name, page title and folder for each page. i.e. contacts page now has the title 'Contacts' and file name of contacts.htm
You will see on the only page that is currently loaded (no other files are loaded – gifs etc) that the link points in the right(?) direction but will still not open pages other than the index.htm page.
I can upload all pages within the web site and can access them all individually on the web but the hyperlink is defeating me.
www.the-innscribers.co.uk

GeePee" wrote:

Cannot thank you enough! I susoected that the links were pointing me in the wrong direction but could not work out how/where etc..
Will reconstruct links with absolute links. Hope this all helps someone else as well.
"DavidF" wrote:

That is because you are framing your site in www.the-innscribers.co.uk , and the relative links that are used in the navbar are pointing to the wrong place for your other pages. Hover your mouse over the Contact Us button, and look at the status bar on the bottom of your page. It shows index_files/Page596.htm which means it is looking for a page at: http://www.the-innscribers.co.uk/index_files/Page596.htm , but that is not where the page is actually located.

If you go to <http://www.lesleymjames.talktalk.net/> your home page loads, and if you click the Contact Us then it takes you to where the page really is: http://www.lesleymjames.talktalk.net/index_files/Page596.htm

Your options are to not frame your site, or to do away with the wizard built navbar that uses relative links, and build one manually with absolute links. Here is an article that will help you understand: Code your own textual navigation menu in Publisher:

Re: Pages not uploading

<http://msmvps.com/blogs/dbartosik/archive/2006/01/16/81255.aspx>

DavidF

"GeePee" <GeePee@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message <news:A351FF5C-A316-4CCC-86E0-6F99A33CE97B@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

Partial success! Have uploaded as advised and the host site now shows
only two folders – the index_files folder and the HTML folder.
The Home web
page
now loads correctly with all graphics in place BUT, none of the hyperlinks work to enable me to go to the other five pages of the site.
Could that be something to do with Publishers 'naming' of those pages?
More help please
when you have time.
You can see the first effort on www.the-innscribers.co.uk
GeePee
"GeePee" wrote:

Thanks David – I have been uploading all the individual files in the index_files folder. Whoops! I will try again.

"DavidF" wrote:

Upload the index.html file and the FOLDER index_files. All the individual
files in that folder should stay in that folder.

DavidF

"GeePee"
<GeePee@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message <news:F428542B-5C17-498B-B70D-4A18ABAED644@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

I have the same problem as
Kim. I DO

Re: Pages not uploading

upload the index.htm
file and all of
the files contained in the folder with all the other files,
graphics etc
but they all appear as individual
files on the web page.
The
index.htm
file opens as the home
page (without graphics etc). Also there are some unknown
files
with some Win
Media file
extensions (?) which have been produced by Publisher.
Any
help please?

"DavidF"
wrote:

When
you Publish
to
the

Re: Pages not uploading

Web,
Publisher
produces
the
HTML
output in the form
of an index.htm
file,
plus a index_files folder
that contains your other pages
and supporting graphics.
It
sounds like
you didn't upload
the folder.

DavidF

"Kim" <km76@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

wrote
in message
news:41827442-FEC1-452D-8D56-734B1959DAA4@xxx

Only
my home
page
is uploading
to
the

Re: Pages not uploading

web.
The
link
that was provided before
to answer this question
is directing me
to a
page
that doesn't help
me.
Can
some one please give me detailed information regarding this problem?
Thank
you!!!

Kim