Brelade,

That's the browsers I use, plus AOL (their browser messes up my sites if the user has 120 dpi fonts turned on) and Safari. I use Mozilla as my primary browser. The reason the text disappears when I hover over it is because of your code: `a:hover {color: #000000; font-weight: bold;}` Black on black is hard to read.

Not sure what is causing the text to go to three lines. You can see a screenshot at www.valleycat.net/brelade.gif

Many Thanks for your feed back, "always welcome"!!!!!!!!!!

I definatley take your point on image sizes, i have reduced the main pictures, but have made the enlarge images to big, something David pointed out a while ago, just haven't got round to reducing them yet.

With regards to different viewers, i have downloaded FireFox, IE7, Opera, these are the main viewers, my "stats" say are the only systems used to view my site, if you know what i mean.

Are you using a MAC OS system, maybe thats why?????

When i always test with above before uploading, so am interested to find out more about the problems you are seeing.

Cheers for any advice.
