My first guess is that you are using your personal web space rather than a business account, true? If so read item 3:

It appears that you cannot use your domain name when you try to use the free web space. You will probably need to select a different web host, as you certainly wouldn't want to host a paid site with Shaw. You can find webhosting for ~$5 a month. I can make suggestions if interested.

Who did you register the domain name with?

Thanks for your help David, but i think im still doing something wrong because my website still doesnt go to my domain name. Let be break it down what im doing and maybe you can tell me what im doing wrong:

this is my website address from my isp-

<http://members.shaw.ca/citylifewinnipeg/>

if i type this in the address bar the site comes up fine. The domain i have is <http://citylifewinnipeg.ca>(which i purchased for 1 year at a domain site).

I want to make it so that when someone types that address in the address bar it goes to my website for viewing. If you have to talk to me like im 5 years old i dont mind, just please please tell me what im doing wrong.

You will find directions on how to direct your domain name to your web host from your web host and/or where you registered the domain. Go to the support section of your web host and start reading.

If you are going to use Publisher to produce your site, then you might also read: Prepare, publish, and maintain your Publisher Web site: <http://office.microsoft.com/en-us/publisher/HA100947601033.aspx>
