

Re: Publish a Web site by using ftp with Publisher 2007

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Publisher/microsoft.public.publisher.webdesign/2009-01/msg00136.html>

- From: Debi <Debi@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Wed, 21 Jan 2009 09:30:10 -0800
-

Spike

Thank you for your patience with me and your help. Once I understand the process I will be fine. I thought I could upload the files from Publisher 2007. Now I understand why they were not. I downloaded Filezilla and filled out host, username and password. Then info was filled automatically into the Filename box on the right. I went to the local site box and selected where I saved the index. files. I double clicked on index.files and it opened all of the files into the Filename box. I selected all of the files in the Filename box, then selected upload . It was uploading the files. I went to my website and there is a 403 Forbidden error. I have left the site as is so that you could see the error. I went to the GoDaddy Hosting to see if all of those files had uploaded into File Manager and they have. Do I need to do something on the GoDaddy?

Debi

"Spike" wrote:

Debi

After you have created your web pages

Select > File

> Publish To The Web

> Select the folder on your hard drive where you want to put the htm files

Example "Documents/Publisher Files

> Default name for files will be index.htm

Do not select Tools map a drive at this point

> Select Save

You should have the index.htm files and a sub folder "index_files" containing the supporting pages and files. This is the default for 2007.

The next step is to FTP those files to the godaddy server

I looked at <http://glasshappyonline.com/>

Is this the site that you are working on? I also see that it was not created using publisher.

Re: Publish a Web site by using ftp with Publisher 2007

If you are not familiar with FTP, Godaddy recommends using FileZilla for transferring files from your computer to the web site. This is a free program and is available at <http://filezilla-project.org/download.php?type=client>

Spike

"Debi" <Debi@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message <news:E1F6CB71-25B2-4DB5-BA92-E1F3FB8A934C@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

I want to use Publisher 2007 since I upgraded from Publisher 2000.
OS is XP
Browser: Explorer
URL: Do you mean <ftp://glasshappyonline.com>
Hosting: godaddy
I don't know what you mean by tried to publish to the web designating a folder on your hard drive for the htm files? Can you explain so that I can try this?
I appreciate your response.

"Spike" wrote:

I am a bit confused with your statement
"when I use Publisher 2000 I can publish to the ftp,....."

Are you still using Publisher 2000, or are you using a newer version?
What OS are you using?
What Browser are you using?
What is your URL?
Who is hosting the web space?

Have you tried to publish to the web designating a folder on your hard drive for the htm files?
If so does the site look OK when you open it from there?
If it looks OK there have you tried to FTP those files it to your server?

Spike

"Debi" <Debi@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message <news:B1D0628D-918C-4AD7-8232-B31AE157E392@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>

I have followed the directions from the website to publish to my website.

Re: Publish a Web site by using ftp with Publisher 2007

I

have opened file then Clicked Publish to web, then went to tools and clicked on Map Network Drive. I selected numerous drives, but I cannot select "Finish". I can only select cancel.. What do I need to do? I have also done

the following. Selected File, Publish to Website, save, then a window comes up "Publishing to HTML" but this doesn't publish to my ftp. I have also done

this File, publish to website, save in, selected ftp://ftp....., FTP

logon

box comes up and I put in my password,

OK, ftp://ftp.... is in Save In,

save,

box comes up saying Publishing HTML

files, another box comes up saying

Saving. Nothing happens so I cancel. Box

comes up saying: Publisher couldn't save the file to the web. Check URL or

Network connection and try again.

I

am so frustrated because when I use

Publisher 2000 I can publish to the

ftp,

but the images are blurry and disfigured.

Any help would be greatly appreciated as I have spent hours creating my sight and trying to Publish

it.

Thanks!