Hi All

I accidentally selected 'delete special' instead of delete for a collection on central server. All the clients were gone after this. I created a collection with criteria ' where name is like ABCD%'. The new collection is showing up machines but there is not site code,no domain code and client and assigned status is NO.

However the local site to which these clients belong are showing the clients in normal condition.

I think 'delete special' has removed clients from the central server database.

How can I get the clients back on central??? Do I need to initiate any force replication which will send the info to central.

Thanks
Nitinn
