Hello,

I wanted to bring to your attention a new helpful SQL tool that's coming out. It enables you to run a search & replace throughout your entire TSQL code – Stored procedures, Functions, and Triggers. In addition, it helps you find the database entities you are looking for, across databases and servers using multiple criteria, and then presents search results in a very intuitive, yet powerful format. A 30 day trial is available for free.

Download your own copy at:

And have a productive time!
