

Re: Sept CTP 2005 Mange. Studio can't connect to MSOLAP "actively refu

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/SQL-Server/microsoft.public.sqlserver.connect/2005-10/msg00039.html>

- From: "Andrew Watt [MVP – InfoPath]" <SVGDeveloper@xxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 14 Oct 2005 11:12:52 +0100
-

Bob,

I assume you confirmed that the Analysis Services service was running?
It's not quite the right combination of error messages for that though.

Am I correct in assuming that you see both error messages in a single dialog?

Andrew Watt
MVP – InfoPath

On Thu, 13 Oct 2005 08:28:07 –0700, Bob H.
<BobH@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

>I'm sure this is a simple thing that I'm missing, like a setting in the >Surface Area Configuration wizard or some such. Please read on...
>
>I have an x64 server (Windows 2003 Server) with a clean, named instance
>(there is no "default instance) install of the Sept. MSSQL 2005 CTP
>(9.0.1314) – full install all services, all with same "log on as" domain user >account. This install of the Sept CTP is the first SQL Server to ever be >installed on this machine, thus no uninstall issues.
>
>When I try to register the Analysis Services database or connect to it in >Object Explorer, I get these 2 error messages:
>
>"A connection cannot be made to redirector. Ensure that 'SQL Browser' >service is running. (Microsoft.AnalysisServices.AdomdClient)"
>
>and
>
>"No connection could be made because the target machine actively refused it >(System)"
>
>The SQLBrowser is running. I'm logged on to the machine with a domain >account that is a local administrator. I can connect to the SQL database

Re: Sept CTP 2005 Mange. Studio can't connect to MSOLAP "actively refu >engine and Integration Services instance, just not the AS instance.

>

>I have the same problem with a 32-bit XP and a 32-bit Windows 2003 Server >installation of the Sept CTP. I have an Itanium 64-bit server with the April

>CTP and do not have this problem (I can also connect successfully to the IA64

>April CTP installation from the X64 Sept CTP install of MSSQL Management

>Studio). I did not have this problem with the June CTP.

>

>Any solutions, suggestions or ideas would be greatly appreciated!

.

• Follow-Ups:

- ◆ Re: Sept CTP 2005 Mange. Studio can't connect to MSOLAP "actively

◇ From: Bob H.

- Prev by Date: Re: SQL Server 2k connect error with hostname

- Next by Date: SQL Server 2k connect error – local

- Previous by thread: Re: SQL Server 2k connect error with hostname

- Next by thread: Re: Sept CTP 2005 Mange. Studio can't connect to MSOLAP "actively

- Index(es):

- ◆ Date

- ◆ Thread