

Re: DB Space

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/SQL-Server/microsoft.public.sqlserver.msde/2004-07/0227.html>

From: Hari Prasad (hari_prasad_k_at_hotmail.com)

Date: 07/13/04

Date: Tue, 13 Jul 2004 09:21:29 +0530

Hi,

Can you execute the below command to ghet the actual database size.

```
use dbname go
sp_spaceused @updateusage='true'
```

-- Execute the above command when database have very less access. Because the above command internally execute DBCC UPDATEUSAGE on all the tables in the database with Shared locks.

--

Thanks

Hari

MCDBA

"Niles" <Niles@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:7957D013-1F3E-43D5-B28A-CF6FDBE1A455@microsoft.com...

> I have an MSDE database that has reached 1880.06 MB and the Tlog is about 1MB. It shows 0 space left on the DB. What can I do to get some more space? Would shrinking the DB accoplish the goal?

>

> Thanks