Thanks, but I am already on hotfix 878 due to another bug I ran into, and I still get the problem described in KB 290817. If I enter my credit card info will thge $99 be reimbursed to me? The reason I care is that it's my personal credit card info I'll be entering, my company is not paying for this, that's why I was checking the newsgroups. I agree it makes more sense to just pay for it rather than me waste my time trying to get it free, but I'd rather waste 3 hours of company time vs spending $99 out of my own pocket.

It amazes me how
