Hi, I have some troubles with replication and permissions. I have two SQL Servers on different physical locations. Both servers establish your communication through a VPN. But replication don't works due permissions problems between both servers (this happens on Windows and SQL. I think that the solution is to deploy a DC on a server, and make member of that domain to other server and clients. I'm confused and it's critical.

Sorry my english, I'll wait for some suggestions-

Thanks
