

Re: Updating Subscriber Replication Error

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/SQL-Server/microsoft.public.sqlserver.replication/2004-08/1002.html>

From: Hilary Cotter (hilary.cotter_at_gmail.com)

Date: 08/31/04

Date: Mon, 30 Aug 2004 22:25:52 -0400

I take it you are using queued updating? If so are you using MSMQ or the SQL database as the queue?

I suspect that your Subscriber is having a hard time figuring out where the subscriber is. Can you do a select @@servername on your subscriber and publisher and post them here.

Can you also query sys.servers on your subscriber and publisher

```
select srvid, srvname from sys.servers where srvid in (0,1)
```

--

Hilary Cotter

Looking for a book on SQL Server replication?

<http://www.nwsu.com/0974973602.html>

"lancemc5" <lancemc5@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:E936DFD6-34D2-4DDD-8579-756AABAE8D6F@microsoft.com...

> I have a couple of servers in my test region that I am trying to configure in > an Updating Subscriber replication configuration. I am able to set up the > publisher without issue. The distributor is on the same server as the > publisher. I can create a subscription to the second server. When updating

> a column for a publication, the row updates to the subscriber without a > problem. However, when updating the same column on the subscriber, I receive

> the following error message:

> Could not locate entry in sysdatabases for database 'central' No entry > found with that name. Make sure that the name is entered correctly.

> The 'central' database is the publishing database on the first server and > would not have an entry in the sysdatabases table on the subscriber. Does > anyone know why I am getting this message.

> Thanks,

> --

> Lance McCaskey