

Re: SBS 2003 server/SQLServer 2000 SP3a service fails to load locally

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/SQL-Server/microsoft.public.sqlserver.server/2005-01/2192.html>

---

From: Yih-Yoon Lee (yihyoon.online\_at\_gmail.com)

Date: 01/20/05

Date: Thu, 20 Jan 2005 09:35:33 -0600

Resetting the log doesn't change authentication. What is the account that SQL Server is running under? Does the account has a password expiration policy? What is the exact error that you are getting?

Yih-Yoon Lee

My blog <http://www.mssql-tools.com/blog>

E-mail: yihyoon.online@gmail.com

/* remove .online to send me e-mail */

northwindcchio wrote:

- > Out of the blue this past week I have the local SQLServer on a SBS 2003 fails
- > to load locally. The only error I get is an authentication process problem.
- > The event viewer shows nothing else either. I have reset the log in at both
- > the SQLServer Enterprise application and on the service itself. I have
- > attempted to reconnect and even reestablished the SQLServer without any luck.
- > Has anyone else run into this. The other connections of SQLServer for
- > SharePoint and Monitoring are functioning and starting without any problem.