

Re: 'Microsoft Search service cannot be administered under the present user error' SP3

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/SQL-Server/microsoft.public.sqlserver.setup/2004-05/0158.html>

From: Oz (Oz(no_spam)_at_nospam.com)

Date: 05/08/04

Date: Sat, 8 May 2004 14:02:42 +0300

Hi John,

Thanks for replying to my message. Unfortunately i forgot to add these items as items i had also tried.

- Have not modified Administrator account, but i ran the SQL script anyway.
- MS Search has always been running as local system
- Changed the security settings using Ent Mgr to Local System and back again to the user account.
- SQL account is not a local administrator. Tried adding it Administrators, still, no joy.

Thanks

O

"John Kane" <jt-kane@comcast.net> wrote in message
news:eaSiY1KNEHA.2976@TK2MSFTNGP10.phx.gbl...

- > Oz,
- > In addition to the many things you tried below... a couple of things
- > specific to MSSearch and the MSSQLServer services...
- > 1. Is the MSSearch service started and running under the System
- > (LocalSystem) account? If not, then change it to LocalSystem and stop and
- > re-start this service.
- >
- > 2. Have you or anyone else change the MSSQLServer account &/or password
- > via
- > Win2K's Component service? IF so, then you MUST re-change the change via
- > the
- > Enterprise Manager's server property security tab as this is the only
- > place
- > where the two services security are kept in sync. See KB article 277549
- > (Q277549) PRB: Unable to Build Full-Text Catalog After You Modify
- > MSSQLServer Logon Account Through [NT4.0] Control Panel [or Win2K
- > Component

microsoft.public.sqlserver.setup: Re: 'Microsoft Search service cannot be administered under the present user error' S

> Services] at

<http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=KB;EN-US;277549>

>

> 3. Have you or anyone else removed or modified the BUILTIN\Administrator > login on this server? If so, you MUST either re-add it with all of it's > normal default rights, especially sysadmin rights and with the default > database as master and the default language of English or use the following

> T-SQL code to add the correct permissions:

>

> exec sp_grantlogin N'NT Authority\System'

> exec sp_defaultdb N'NT Authority\System', N'master' > exec sp_defaultlanguage N'NT Authority\System', 'us_english'

> exec sp_addsrvrolemember N'NT Authority\System', sysadmin

>

> Additionally, but not necessarily related to the error in the subject line,

> has this server ever been upgrade from SQL Server 7.0 or is this SQL

Server

> 2000 a "named instance" with a default installation of SQL Server 7.0? As > this might be related to a post-SP3 bug. See KB 814035 (Q814035) FIX: A

> Full-Text Population Fails After You Apply SQL Server 2000 Service Pack 3

> at:

> <http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=kb;en-us:814035> (80004002 –

> No such interface supported)

>

> Regards,

> John

>

>

> "Oz" <Oz(no_spam)@nospam.com> wrote in message

> news:eytulHGNEHA.2468@TK2MSFTNGP11.phx.gbl...

> > Hi,

> >

> > We have SQL Server private installation on which we are developing an > > application and public installation on which we will be deploying the > > application. All instances have run Windows 2003 Enterprise Edition with

> > SQL

> > 2000 SP3. However, the public installation MS Search is not functioning > > correctly. Basically it will not full-text indeed databases and produces

> > the following error

> >

> > 1> exec sp_fulltext_database 'enable'

> > 2> go

> > (1 row affected)

> > Msg 7635, Level 16, State 1, Server SIMP001, Procedure

> > sp_fulltext_database,

> > Lin

> > e 46

> > The Microsoft Search service cannot be administered under the present

Re: 'Microsoft Search service cannot be administered under the present user error' SP3

microsoft.public.sqlserver.setup: Re: 'Microsoft Search service cannot be administered under the present user error' S

user

> > account

> >

> > Now, we have tried many things to try and solve this error, mainly based on > > search newsgroups, which are itemized below:

> >

> > 1 Reboot System and reexecute sp_

> > 2 Complete reinstall of SQL on system, then reapplication of SP3

> > 3 Same as above (2) but reapply SP3a

> > 4 Remove SQL Server installation subkey in order that can reinstall

> > full-text search only, then reapply SP3

> > 5 Check from keys under

> > HKEY_LOCAL_MACHINE\SOFTWARE\Microsoft\Search\1.0\Applications\ to make sure

> > SQL Server was there. It wasn't, removed SQL subkey and reinstalled, > > re-adding full-text search as an option (to re-install full-text) then

> > reapplied SP3

> > 6 Try reinstall, but do not reapply SP3 until have full-text enabled the database.

> >

> > None of the above worked. We still have a none functioning mssearch and full-text disabled database on the system.

> >

> > We have even tried enabling on a blank database. This does not work either.

> >

> > PLEASE HELP! Getting desperate as the whole application depends on having > > search ability.

> >

> > Thanks

> >

> > Oz

> >

> >

>

>

>