No. You can't restore a SQL Server 2005 backup to SQL Server 2000 and you can't use detach/attach.

Here's what we are trying to do :

- 1) Create a new database in SQLServer2005, use that database under SQLServer2005.
- 2) about a month later, that database is backed up and sent to another site, which is using SQLServer2000.
- 3) We want to restore this database at the SQLServer2000 site, and start using it.

Is step 3) possible ? if so, any gotchas (eg. any special considerations).

TIA,
