

microsoft.public.scripting.wsh: Re: programmatically capture web page as internet archive (MHT)

Re: programmatically capture web page as internet archive (MHT)

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Scripting/microsoft.public.scripting.wsh/2004-05/0296.html>

From: Bruce Hensley (bhensley_at_bechtel.com)

Date: 05/14/04

Date: Fri, 14 May 2004 10:16:23 -0700

VVV,

Thank you. Then unless we get an idea from someone else, we'll have to rewrite our reports to use GET instead of POST. Although it is more work, this will work for us.

Thanks,
Bruce

"Viatcheslav V. Vassiliev" <msnewsgroup@www-sharp.com> wrote in message news:ezGuJ4YOEHA.628@TK2MSFTNGP11.phx.gbl...

> As I know - no.

>

> //-----

> Regards,

> Vassiliev V. V.

> <http://www-sharp.com> -

> Scripting/HTA/.Net Framework IDE

>

> "Bruce Hensley" <bhensley@bechtel.com> ÓĪĪÁÝÉÌ/ÓĪĪÁÝÉÌÁ × ĪĪ×ĪÓÔÑÈ

> ÓĪĪÁÏÖÀÝÁÁ: news:OGiU0oROEHA.2704@TK2MSFTNGP10.phx.gbl...

> > Viatcheslav,

> >

> > I see that you can append querystring info to the URL to perform a GET,

> > but

> > is it possible to use this method to request a response from an ASP page > > that responds to a form POST rather than a GET? If so, how?

> >

> > Thanks,

> > Bruce

> >

> > "Viatcheslav V. Vassiliev" <msnewsgroup@www-sharp.com> wrote in message > > news:OXwMdiNOEHA.2952@TK2MSFTNGP12.phx.gbl...

> > > On Win2000+:

> > >

> > > dim message, conf, stream

Re: programmatically capture web page as internet archive (MHT)

