

Re: Odd VB 6.0 Bug

---

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/VB/microsoft.public.vb.bugs/2006-07/msg00019.html>

---

- From: "Robert Morley" <rmorley@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Tue, 11 Jul 2006 09:54:37 -0400
-

Well that's awfully nice of you Michael, thanks. I'm sure we'll ALL appreciate it.

Rob

"Michael C" <nospam@xxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:Omh5CbJpGHA.3820@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

"David Carr" <David\_Carr@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:uaa0NAJpGHA.4960@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

I concur.

Please leverage newsgroups and make them the most effective possible. That means answering the poster's technical question only. If you want to start a greater discussion, whether it be a tired theme such as this or something else – well, start a new thread with an appropriately titled subject. For that matter, also choose an appropriate newsgroup for your soapbox.

Time is of the essence, and wasting time having to track through threads like this is a drag.

Sorry David, I'll make sure everything I do in life is efficient just for you.

Michael