Hi

As we all know in VB, what is the visual difference when we disable a text box and when we change the text box to "Read only".

Well as many others, i also need to know if there is some way out to make a combo box read only, so that the text can be easily read.

At present im using the .enable=false, but this makes viewing the text tedious enough.

Please if someone could help me out...

Thanks in advance...
