Hi,

I am getting this strange error.

It occurs after a line that sets the "value" of an optionbutton (an array) to True is executed.

The next error message reads: "Automation error.

The callee (server [not server application]) is not available and disappeared; all connections are invalid. The call may have executed."

In Visual Basic, error 457 is

"This key is already associated with an element of this collection"

Are you, perhaps, using dotnet?
