

Re: Variable in SQL statement

Source: <http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/VB/microsoft.public.vb.database.ado/2004-02/0207.html>

From: Al Reid (areidjr_at_reidDASHhome.com)

Date: 02/26/04

Date: Thu, 26 Feb 2004 16:45:59 -0500

deSVLG.rscmdIGArpt.Open "SELECT Address, City, FirstName, IGADate, IGAFee, LastName, MemberNo, StateZip, Remarks FROM SvlMain WHERE MemberNo >= " & MemNo

"Don Starkey" <imdonnie@msn.com> wrote in message news:eUoywvK$DHA.808@TK2MSFTNGP12.phx.gbl...

> I have a SQL statement:

>

> deSVLG.rscmdIGArpt.Open "SELECT Address, City, FirstName, IGADate, IGAFee, > LastName, MemberNo, StateZip, Remarks FROM SvlMain WHERE MemberNo >= (

>

> Where (MemNo) at the end is a variable integer

>

> I can operate the program OK by using MemNo as a Parameter in the data > designer, but would prefer to use the variable in the text recordset > opening.

>

> Can a variable be used in a SQL statement, and if so, how?

>

> Thanks

>

>