

Re: Connect to SQL Sererv thru Named Pipes

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/VB/microsoft.public.vb.general.discussion/2005-06/msg01573.html>

- From: "Aruna Tennakoon" <aruna.tennakoon@xxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Mon, 20 Jun 2005 08:54:55 +0600
-

Hi Andrew,
I tried, It working.. Thanks alot for your help...

"Andrew D. Newbould" <newsgrups@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message
news:IfASBLEHhBtCFwqe@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx
> In message <#O4Jmn8cFHA.2552@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>, Aruna Tennakoon
> <aruna.tennakoon@xxxxxxxxxx> writes
>>Hi guys,
>>
>> Ijust wanted to know how to configure the SQL Server to use Named Pipes >> and >>to acced SQL Server via Named Pipes from VB 6.
>>
>>Thanks for your time,
>>-Aruna
>
> SQL Server and MSDE both install by default with Named Pipes activated > (its their default protocol). In order to use TCP/IP protocols you need to > specify at install time, or use Enterprise Manager to change, or use > Network Tools to change.
>
> Any DSN, ODBC or OLEDB connection string used to connect to SQL Server > will default to using named pipes unless you tell it otherwise using the > "Network Library" parameter. For example:
>
> Provider=sqloledb;Data Source=190.190.200.100,1433;Network
> Library=DBMSSOCN;Initial Catalog=pubs;User ID=sa;Password=asdasd;
>
> The DBMSSOCN tell the OLEDB driver to use TCP/IP instead of the default > named pipes (). Other choices for this parameter include:
>
> Name Network library
> dbnmpntw – Win32 Named Pipes
> dbmssocn – Win32 Winsock TCP/IP > dbmsspxn – Win32 SPX/IPX
> dbmsvinn – Win32 Banyan Vines
> dbmsrpcn – Win32 Multi-Protocol (Windows RPC)
>

Re: Connect to SQL Sererv thru Named Pipes

- > There are pros and cons as normal for which protocol to use however IMO
- > anything that is not standalone on a single PC you would be better using
- > TCP/IP for speed, performance and flexibility. Check out
- > <http://www.connectionstrings.com> for more ideas on connection strings.
- >
- > Kind Regards,
- >
- > --
- > Andrew D. Newbould E-Mail: newsgroups@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx
- >
- > ZAD Software Systems Web : www.zadsoft.com

- References:

- ◆ Connect to SQL Sererv thru Named Pipes
 ◇ From: Aruna Tennakoon
- ◆ Re: Connect to SQL Sererv thru Named Pipes
 ◇ From: Andrew D. Newbould

- Prev by Date: VB 6 and Web Browser
- Next by Date: about listview
- Previous by thread: Re: Connect to SQL Sererv thru Named Pipes
- Next by thread: Microsoft Visual Studio Discussion Forum
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread