Did you try Google? I found these easily:

You might want to check out the various results that come up when your search terms are: IE7 uninstall
At a brief glance it looks like some people might be having trouble uninstalling.

For blocking re-install/install see the IE7 post from yesterday.

I to would like to get rid of IE 7 can you explain how to roll back to IE6 tried to change the *.exe file and finished up having to do a system restore.

would also be prepared to block the IE7 update.
